

DOUGLAS C. HALDEMAN, Ph.D.

Counseling Psychology
101 Stewart Street, Suite 1111
Seattle, Washington 98101
(206) 443-4306 phone

July 27, 2009

Ms. Linda Hagen, General Manager
Coast Plaza Hotel
1763 Comox Street
Vancouver, B.C. V6G 1P6

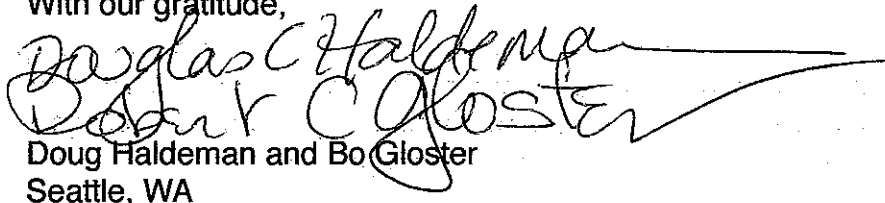

Dear Ms. Hagen:

My spouse, Bo Gloster, and I have been together 30 years. Our first visit to the Coast Plaza was in 1984 and we have stayed there since that time on many of our visits to Vancouver. It seemed a natural choice, then, to select the Coast Plaza as the location for our wedding earlier this month. Our wedding was a three-day series of events with approximately 145 guests. We planned a champagne/dessert reception Friday evening, an 8-k/5-k run/walk around the Stanley Park seawall on Saturday morning, the ceremony and reception on Saturday evening, and a brunch on Sunday morning.

As you can see, this wedding had a lot of moving parts - and we are pleased to say that it all went perfectly. The venues of the hotel and its proximity to the park provided just what we wanted for our guests and ourselves. The food was excellent (many people commented on the quality and variety) and the staff were very professional and delightful. We would in particular like to commend Ms. Rose Khallar of your Catering and Sales Department. Ms. Khallar is in a class by herself in terms of professionalism, responsiveness and kindness. We truly felt that she was a partner in our event, and we enjoyed working with her tremendously. In fact, she was instrumental in working with our own wedding planner to make the events perfect.

There's no better day than one's wedding for perfection, and for us, that sums up our experience at the Coast Plaza. Vancouver will always be home to the best memories of our lives. Your hotel, your staff and of course your beautiful city made for a true dream come true.

With our gratitude,

Doug Haldeman and Bo Gloster
Seattle, WA

Fellow American Psychological Association